Art Unit: 1616

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 8/22/06 is acknowledged.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Garvey et al (US 5,824,669) in view of Carling et al (US 5,674,860) and Palmer (US 5,208,226).

Carling et al teach a formoterol salt for inhalation treatment of asthma (abstract).

Palmer et al teach inhalation of a salmeterol salt for respiratory disorders (abstract). Asthma is disclosed (column 1 lines 5-6).

Garvey et al teach anticholinergic agents such as ipratropium, tiotropium, and flutropium are used for the inhalation treatment of asthma (column 2 lines 1-19).

It would have been obvious to add an anticholinergic agent such as tiotropium to the compositions of Carling et al or Palmer et al to achieve the additional beneficial effect of a second asthma treating agent. In re Kerhhoven 205 USPQ 1069 (CCPA 1980). As to the claimed salts, it would be an obvious expedient to use in an aqueous vehicle to achieve the beneficial effect of a uniform distribution of active.

Art Unit: 1616

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-9 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-15 and 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,455,524 and 6,630,466 respectively. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims encompass the scope of the patented claims regarding the scope of the anticholinergic agent.

No claims allowed.
